SUBJECT: CFMEU - Tweed Valley Hospital Development

Please attribute to a Health Infrastructure spokesperson

The principal contractor currently in control of the Tweed Valley Hospital site, Woollam Constructions, notified Health Infrastructure on the 16 January 2019 that the CFMEU (Construction, Forestry, Mining and Energy Union) had raised safety-related concerns around the generator serving the site amenities.

Woollam Constructions have confirmed that all matters raised by the CFMEU at the site visit on the 16 January were immediately reviewed and have been appropriately addressed. The essential environmental protection works currently underway on the site are continuing.

Woollam Constructions has also contacted SafeWork NSW and invited them to inspect the site.
