

TWEED VALLEY HOSPITAL PROJECT NOVEMBER 2021

WORKS NOTIFICATION

The NSW Government is investing $723.3 million in health for the Tweed-Byron region, which includes construction of the new Tweed Valley Hospital. Health Infrastructure NSW has engaged Lendlease to construct the main hospital buildings. The new hospital is on track to open to patients in 2023.

Cudgen Road upgrade works from 15 November 2021

As part of the Tweed Valley Hospital project, a section of Cudgen Road will be upgraded to accommodate vehicles entering and exiting the new hospital. The upgrade will include widening a section of Cudgen Road from two lanes to four lanes, a realigned footpath on the road's northern side, new slip lanes, bus stops and a new signalised intersection at the hospital's main entry. The works will take approximately one year to complete and will be undertaken in four stages:

- Stage one: Construction of a temporary footpath on the northern side of Cudgen Road within the hospital boundary to replace the current footpath.
- Stage two: Construction of the new signalised intersection at the hospital's main entry.
- Stage three: Widening of the eastbound lane to two lanes, including additional street lighting and services installation, with traffic switched to the southern side of Cudgen Road.
- Stage four: Widening of the westbound lane to two lanes, including additional street lighting and services installation, with traffic switched to the northern side of Cudgen Road.

Please see map on the next page for staging locations.

What to expect:

- Road works to be undertaken on Cudgen Road from November 2021 to late 2022.
- Reduced speed limit on Cudgen Road in the vicinity of the works.
- Relocation of the two existing bus stops along Cudgen Road.
- Vegetation removal within the hospital site boundary.
- Traffic control in place during certain activities for the safety of motorists and pedestrians.
- Periodic lane closures, footpath changes and bus stop relocations.
- Access will be maintained however motorists may experience delays during certain activities.
- If any major traffic changes are required, specific notifications will be provided ahead of these changes.
